Why become an Ambassador?

Being a Student Ambassador for International Students is a deeply rewarding opportunity both on a personal level and in terms of your career prospects after leaving the University of Pavia.

As a Student Ambassador you are the face of the University and as part of this role you will relay information about your University experience to the prospective students of tomorrow. You will be highly influential in decisions that have a big impact on the University including the student's decision to study with us.

Role Description

As a Student Ambassador you will have to:

- Represent the University of Pavia on the chat Platform of Unipv website or social medias.
- Answer questions from prospective students via chat about study, life and your experience at University. Popular topics include: study, exams, assignments, accommodation, sports, preparing for university, managing your finances, campus life, university application etc.
- Check your account on a daily basis and answer questions in a timely manner. Chatting will last about one hour/ week.
- Keep conversations going and build up a friendly relationship with students.
- Participate to promotional or welcome events.
- Create blog or social media posts.
- Participate to the Ambassadors meeting.

In order to be a successful Ambassador you must satisfy the following features:

- Be a current student at the University of Pavia enrolled in a Degree programs in English.
- Be passionate, proactive, social, open and full of energy.
- Be flexible and willing to respond to questions quickly and efficiently.
- Be responsible, open and honest in your communications.
- Be a good role model for prospective students.
- Be open to cultural differences
- Be familiar with social media content creation

What you will earn being an Ambassador

You will act on a voluntary basis and you will get an Ambassador profile, a snapshot of your personality that contains information about your course, nationality, languages, favourite classes, hobbies and interests. When students visit the Ambassador page on our university's website, they can read your profile and get in touch via the 'chat with' button.

Being an Ambassador you will:
